Solenne Jolivet - ARTWORK

SOLENNE JOLIVET

Creator

Solenne Jolivet is an artist and textile artisan known for her exceptional work in her field. Jolivet's goal in artisanal and artistic practice is to re-examine the notion of the textile surface. Starting embroidery at 11, she pursued a Bac STI in Applied Arts, followed by a diploma in textile craft and applied arts. After finishing her studies, she immersed herself in developing her vision of embroidery and positioning herself as a textile artist, aiming for a dual artistic and artisanal practice. Her uniqueness lies in using thread like a painter uses pigments and exploring textile surface notions. She aligns with interior architects and art advisors in the artisanal realm, focusing on application. In contrast, in the artistic sphere, she embraces freedom, aiming to resonate with viewers meaningfully.

(...) I'd say I'm a thread turner, in other words, I shape the material "thread" to make it a mass. I give it the chromatic and graphic properties of painting and drawing, two disciplines that have always fascinated and shaped me. (...)
